Role based app experiences

Microsoft Teams Ecosystem

Role based app experiences

Create app experiences for different 'roles' of users by using Teams Platform capabilities such as bots, tabs & message extensions. Take advantage of user identity information to identify a user role, and then create an experience tailored to those roles. Let us understand this with an example -

Contoso

A typical CRM software app

Megan Bowen

Role

Regional Sales Manager

Fabrikam Industries

Manages a team of Sales Reps

"I am responsible for Sales in my entire region. I also lead a team of Sales reps who each have individual sales targets. I care about their performance, career growth and job satisfaction."

Babak Shammass

Role

Sales Rep

Fabrikam Industries

Reports to Megan Bowen

"I work hard to meet my individual sales target. I look to my manager, Megan for her guidance and leadership and strive to become a better sales person"

Personal tabs

Use the same personal tab to show different content to users with different roles. Make sure to give the personal tab a 'name' that makes sense for all user roles – this is because while different users might see different content in the personal tab, they will all see the same personal tab name.

Hey all, as the date for the big FY 2017 pitch nears, I wanted to express how appreciative I am of all of you and the hours that you all have put in for this. I know there have been some really late nights and weekends. Seeing as this is our largest and we've had

I'm not confident in recommending option 2 or 5 again and feel that we should cut those options from the deck. We've discussed those options with the client before and she believes those are too costly for the brand. If we don't acknowledge those concerns, she may lose confidence in our recommendations.
